FIONA CAMERON-WILLIAMS RECEIVES CERTIFICATION IN CORPORATE ETIQUETTE AND INTERNATIONAL PROTOCOL

McLean, Virginia. . . Mclean, Virginia resident Fiona Cameron-Williams was recently trained and certified as a Corporate Etiquette and International Protocol Consultant by The Protocol School of Washington®. The training was held at The Ritz-Carlton, Tysons Corner, McLean, Virginia.

Train To Be a Corporate Etiquette and International Protocol Consultant is a comprehensive training designed to train individuals to teach business etiquette, international protocol, and dining seminars. The interactive seminars give professionals and executives the skills to handle situations where business is promoted or conducted.

The Protocol School of Washington® is the leader in etiquette and protocol services and is the first company to provide professional training and certification in etiquette and protocol. Since 1988, more than sixteen hundred men and women have been trained and certified to use the school's comprehensive training manuals, workbooks, slides, and support materials. Consultants certified by The Protocol School of Washington® are providing the highest-quality programs in the United States of America, Canada and abroad, and many are featured on major television networks and radio, and in publications worldwide. For future trainings, contact The Protocol School of Washington® toll-free (877) 766-3757, via e-mail at info@psow.com or visit the school's Web site at www.psow.com.
